

Lightning

- Lightning comes from electrical charges that build up within a storm cloud.
- Lightning can travel from cloud to cloud or it can travel from clouds to the ground.
- GOES-R Series weather satellites keep an eye on lighting from high up in space. These lightning observations help to alert people to dangerous and intensifying storms so they can predict and prepare for severe weather!

Learn more about the GOES-R Series weather satellites here: <https://scijinks.gov/goes-r>